I do the best job in the world capturing emotions and making the immortal

I was born in Syracuse, Sicily, and my land is a land of emotions, passion, scents and colors. Here the tradition of marriage is strong and rooted. At the age of 30, in 2012, I decided to tell that tradition, those colors and those emotions with images.

Today I have more than 700 weddings behind me, and I have discovered that every story is worth telling. I have been lucky enough to photograph and film weddings throughout Italy and beyond. From Sicily to Puglia, from Campania to Emilia Romagna and Tuscany. I never stopped getting excited and I never stopped learning.

My only goal during a shoot is to make a special day for the bride and groom, even more special. I love reportage, I always look for elegance, and I don't mind a touch of healthy madness.
